SEPTEMBER 2013

THE YACHATS CITY COUNCIL VISION

Adopted: April 2, 2009

Our village is a place where natural resources are valued and protected, where diversity is celebrated, and where a vibrant economy and sense of community pride create and recreate a living spirit. Yachats cares not just for its citizens' basic needs but also supports them in their efforts to excel mentally, physically, artistically, and spiritually. It is a community with an enduring sense of itself.

Mayor's Message

By Ron Brean, Mayor

Every now and then, too often really, the sounds of emergency vehicle sirens ring out through town.

Fire Chief Frankie Petrick and her crew of dedicated fire fighters and rescue workers are on their way to some place where someone isn't having a good day. Those sirens mean someone is in trouble. Each time I hear them I wonder if someone has been injured, if there's been a traffic accident, or if some home or business is on fire. The only thing that's sure when you hear them is that one of our visitors or our neighbors is in need of help.

It is an essential service and I think we all appreciate the numerous contributions made by the Yachats Rural Fire Protection District to our City and the greater Yachats community. I'm grateful that they are well trained professionals to deal with the trauma and respond to the emergency, and to provide the help that is needed. When you have the chance, give them your thanks.

We have agencies like fire and rescue as services of government because people working together to solve problems recognized that a higher level of coordination was necessary to fix something that was wrong or to provide a service that raised the quality of life for all concerned. There will always be debates about how much government is enough and how much is too much, but it seems clear to most of us that sometimes an appropriately designed level of government is the best answer.

Sometime, however, it turns out that thoughtful people working in community can solve problems without the messy structure of governmental organization. It appears that the advent of the internet and the growth of social media can facilitate problem solving for creative, socially conscious people.

If you missed it, the discussion on the Yachats Community Facebook page has been focused recently on the problem of crossing Highway 101 safely. A tragic death over the 4th of July weekend and a bicycle-pedestrian funded project for our main street have raised concerns for pedestrian safety. We've all observed the speed with which some vehicles go through town and we've all seen or experienced difficulty in getting from one side of the highway to the other, even at the one cross walk in town. Just getting the attention of drivers focused on their destination can be difficult.

With Yachadians bringing experiences and observations to the discussion, an idea surfaced that has been used in various communities around the country to make road crossings safer. Pedestrian flags, brightly colored and stored at appropriate crossing locations, are made available in some cities for road crossers to grab and attract attention of the vehicles so that walkers can safely cross.

It's a simple idea designed only to attract attention and remind drivers that they need to pay attention to those on foot.

Now, pedestrian safety is an issue that has had some focus from government for a number of years. In fact, the bike-ped funding that is allocated to make Highway 101 improvements is a result of that focus. Cross walk improvements are in our future. However, it is a basic premise of the American experiment that government should not be trusted to do the right thing and therefore should never be streamlined. Slow moving governments cannot easily run amok without a chance for the public to intervene.

But in the meanwhile, anyone wanting to cross the highway is at some risk, or at the very least must time their crossing to hit a gap in the traffic even if they are at a cross walk. So the community Facebook folks did what Yachatsians do. They put their creativity and their energy where their mouth was. Pedestrian flags are in place and in use without the intervention of government, without a great deal of fanfare, without any reward or acclaim, without corporate sponsorship, and without any self-serving motivation.

Wow! Thank the professionals that work to rescue and protect us, but thank your neighbors too for the same thing. Through these efforts perhaps we will hear a few less sirens in the future.

Public Utility Billing

By Kimmie Jackson

ACH UPDATE

Please note that you will still receive your bill as you have in the past, the only difference you will notice to the lower right side in the "If Paid After" box, it will have "Draft on" in the box instead of the date. Accounts will draft on the 15th of the month, and if it falls on the weekend, we will Draft on that Monday following the weekend.

We encourage you to sign up for e-bill so that you can view your bill online and not receive a bill by mail.

What Meter Box?

With winter upon us, it is not only essential to know where your hand valve is located, but if it is functioning, and if the meter box is free of dirt and debris. The City recommends that customers check the hand valve on their property twice a year in the spring and the fall when the time changes over. In addition, we recommend that customers turn their water off at the hand valve if their property will be vacant for more than 3 consecutive days.

Turning on a faucet after the water has been shut off at the hand valve will allow any water remaining in the pipes to drain out.

The City charges the account holder $20 to turn off water services from 8:30am-4:30pm Monday through Friday, or $40 after hours or on holidays. Homeowners may also receive $100 citation for having a non-functioning or inaccessible hand valve.

Don't forget : if you are leaving for 3 days or more please remember to turn your hand valve off!!!

Yachats Municipal Code 8.04.140 requires that "All residential and commercial connections to the city's water system shall have a hand valve installed on the property owner's side of the meter. The valve must be installed inside the meter box or within twenty-four (24) inches of the meter to enable city staff to turn off the water without going on to the property..."

Yachats Trails Update

By Jan Brown, Trails Committee
Communications Leader

Summer has been busy this year on area trails. With so many types of trails easily accessed from Yachats, half the fun is the variety of people you're likely to meet along the way. Gardeners and naturalists, historians, birdwatchers, geocachers, artists, musicians, dog walkers, fitness aficionados, gypsy spirits, toddlers and centenarians are just some of the visitors making Yachats their destination for exploring Oregon outdoors.

Recently the City Council received a lovely letter from two of these trail users, a Wisconsin couple who discovered Yachats while hiking the Oregon Coast Trail. In their letter they wrote that they had hiked from Ft. Stevens to Florence and that "no other city even came close to providing the Oregon Coast Trail experience" they saw in Yachats. They especially appreciated the signs and dedicated marked walkways throughout the community and expressed hope that other towns along the trail would follow our leadership in trail integration. They went on to say they felt that this was "the only town where they were genuinely welcomed as hikers." Indeed they felt so welcomed that they made a spontaneous decision to stay over in Yachats to enjoy our great shops and restaurants as well as the trails. In closing, they expressed their belief that, as the trail continues to develop; our efforts will result in beneficial economic, social and pedestrian growth for the community.

So thanks to everyone in this wonderful little village for making strangers feel at home and to all you Trails and YIPS volunteers who put your time, talent and energy into making the Yachats experience uniquely inviting and rewarding to visitors and residents alike. Special thanks also go to, John Maré for his service on the Oregon Recreation Trails Advisory Council and his vision and diligence in keeping the Oregon Coast Trail signed for its growing number of travelers.

Just as Yachats is part of a trail system that enables travelers to traverse the state without a car, it is also poised to be part of a state-wide transportation program called "Drive Less Connect" that helps you explore money- and resource-saving transportation options. We've recently become aware of this program through the local outreach coordinator for Lincoln, Benton and Linn Counties. The program provides a secure, easy-to-use online ride-matching tool that matches you with people going your way, whether commuting regularly, or making one-time trips. It can also match you with bike-riding partners for greater safety and ways to learn about alternative transportation routes. In addition, it provides a trip calendar that measures your alternative commute activities and their financial and environmental savings. It's a great tool to help you keep track of how much money, gasoline and CO2 you save when you leave your car at home... and it provides a way to win prizes for your efforts!

Currently there are a number of participants in Waldport and Newport, but none in Yachats, so it's a good time to register and start extending this program to our community. You can find all the details and register at www.DriveLessConnect.com.

YIPS! (Yachats Invasive Plants Subcommittee) News

August was also an active month for YIPS! It marked the re-launch of our Weed of the Month campaign. Keep a lookout around town for our WOM posters. As part of this campaign, we now have a web page where we will post detailed information on each weed. Bookmark this page for reference: <http://www.yachats.info/YIPS/> (where you can also view the beautiful new Yachats Trails logo.)

Tansy ragwort (a highly toxic threat to grazing animals) was the WOM for August, and we were kept busy all month dealing with new sightings around town. Also, as I write, we have a tansy foray in the Cummins Ridge wilderness area scheduled for August 24th. This will be the third year that we have pulled tansy on the Cummins Ridge trail.

September's WOM is purple loosestrife, shown flowering in the ditch alongside Yachats Ocean Road. It has escaped from cultivation and small, dense populations have established themselves in various damp locations around town. Loosestrife impedes water flow in canals and ditches and also reduces wildlife habitat. It can be confused with fireweed, which flowers at about the same time.

We are always on the lookout for new faces (and hands) to join us on our monthly weed outings as well as our "emergency" forays. If you would like to give YIPS! a try, please call Wally.

And for any questions about weeds, call Don (541-961-6695) or Wally (541-547-5474).

Upcoming Trails, YIPS! and Related Events in September and October

The Yachats Trails Crew meets on the first Saturday of each month and the YIPS! crew on the third Saturday, both from 10:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. Please come join our cheerful group as there are always opportunities for all levels of ability - including consultants! You can call or e-mail any of the members listed at the end of this article to find out more.

Upcoming events to add to your calendar include:

September 7th (Saturday) 10:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.:

Trails Crew will gather at the Overleaf Lodge parking lot, then head out to the 804 Trail where we will clip, lop, and generally spruce up the northern end of the trail to keep it hiker/biker/walker-friendly.

September 21st (Saturday) 10:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. YIPS! Work event (Location to be announced via email to the Trails Committee's contact list.)

October 4th (Saturday) 10:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m. Trails work event (Location to be announced via email to the Trails Committee's contact list.)

October 18th (Saturday) 10:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. YIPS! Work event (Location to be announced via email to the Trails Committee's contact list.)

Little Log Church and Museum

By Mary Crook, Events Coordinator

A couple of weeks ago John Thornton, our Saturday volunteer, remarked about how busy he's been this summer at the Log Church. He scanned the pages of our visitors' log and was amazed to see how many folks had passed through our doors. I can certainly agree. I haven't seen so many summer visitors in town for a long time. There are a couple of highly scientific criteria we use to determine the summer population explosion index: (1) all check stands at the grocery store are busy and have more than six people in line; (2) the length of time it takes to drive onto Highway 101 from a side road seems interminable. Now we have a third. (3) There is a parade of visitors to the Little Log Church.

Volunteers invite our visitors to sign our log, indicating their names, city and state or country they live, and any comments they wish to write down. Most do, some get away without signing. From Memorial Day weekend until August 19th we had at least 1,272 visitors, representing 32 states and 6 countries. A number of people also choose just to enjoy our garden, especially since the Little Log Church is one of the Geocache sites in town. So we're alive and well.

In other news, a former LLC&M volunteer and his wife are in town. Jim D'Ville and his wife Linda are back for a while. They've been traveling around the country in their Airstream Coach, and decided to land in their old town for a breather. When Jim was volunteering at the church he used his time to practice his musical skills, first on the banjo, then on his beloved ukulele. Occasionally you could find him sitting on a bench in front of the east window strumming away. It was time Jim cherished, and he got very good on the uke. He was even featured strummin' his stuff on OPB's Oregon Art Beat.

Well, Jim is going to have a ukulele concert at the Little Log Church on Sunday, September 8th at 4:00 p.m. A donation of $10 will get you in for a very fun time with Jim, his music and banter. Laughs are guaranteed. The very best part is that Jim plans to donate 100% of the proceeds to The Friends of the Little Log Church! Jim says he wants to say thank you for the time he spent at the Little Log Church, and we're thankful to Jim for his generosity. So come by on Sunday the 8th and see an old friend!

Yachats Public Library

By Janet Rackleff

September seems to be THANK YOU Month for the Yachats Public Library. We received a grant from the Trust Management Foundation this past spring and were able to buy a great new rug and computer for the kid's room and improve our reference collection.

We now have reference texts on: Social Security, Medicare & Government Pensions, Money/Investment Plans, Landlord and Tenants Legal Guides, Small Claims Court, Patent Copyright & Trademark Laws, an Essential Guide to Divorce, Solving Money Troubles, Organize your Records so your Family Won't Have To, Marine Life of the Pacific NW, an encyclopedia of NW Native Plants for Gardens & Landscapes, one on Tidepools & Rocky Shores, and an Atlas of Anatomy with detailed drawings.

If you enjoy historical speeches look for, Lend Me Your Ears-Great Speeches in History by Wm Safire. Or take a look at American artwork with 300 Years of American Art by D. Zellman. Space buffs will enjoy Hubbles Universe-Greatest Discoveries & latest Images, by T. Dickinson. These are just some of the new reference materials. Stop by for the complete list and to browse.

Another BIG THANK YOU goes out to the many participants who made this Summer's Reading Program for Children "DIG INTO READING" a success. Planet

Yachats generously donated rocks for making mancala games and Cape Perpetua's Lori Robertson gave a wonderful talk/hands-on activity about fossils. Larry Blanchard of the Public Works department gave the kids a tour of digging machines and what they process to many sets of wide eyes. The local master gardeners helped us plant seeds and tour their beautiful grounds. Each week our wonderful volunteers:

Angie Deriberprey, Carita Edson, Jane Shay and Margo Sloan read stories, helped with crafts and snacks. Nobody can make a dump cake like Margo, set up a scavenger hunt like Angie, read a story like Carita or come up with finger plays like Jane. If you want to simulate fossil finding - dig chocolate chips out of cookies with Sandy Calkins! The program could not have happened without the additional help of the many library and parent volunteers, tip of the pirate hat to Carolyn White, Janet Hickam, Barbara Frye and Patty Hettinger. The Friends of the library donated enough giveaway books for each child to take home and keep a title every week, a very important gift towards literacy and love of reading that underscores the intent of the Summer Program. The Ladies Club donated beautiful prize baskets for children who met their reading goal, making this an all community effort for children.

Finally thanks to those of you who have taken the time to share a story and store it in the library notebook. We need more, and are encouraging people to write something that has happened to them and add it to the OUR STORIES book at the library.

dollars. This is your chance to meet old friends and make new ones. If you've never been, it's high time you paid us a visit. What are you waiting for? Get yourself a cup of coffee, listen to the entertainment, and enjoy being a member of the Lunch Bunch. It's that simple.

By Andrea Scharf,
Marketing Director

The concept of sister cities was popularized in the US by President Eisenhower as a way to create people-to-people citizen diplomacy in the post-war world. The program is popular in Europe and Asia, and many see it as an opportunity to improve business and cultural relations. Sometimes the pairings are whimsical. The Scottish village of Dull is paired with—what else?—Boring, OR! Sometimes it's a name connection: Toledo OH with Toledo, Spain, though there is also an industrial connection since both cities are known for their metalworks. Newport's sister city is Mombetsu, Japan; it originated as part of Eisenhower's efforts, in 1956.

I started thinking about the sister city concept. Yachats doesn't have one, at least not officially. But maybe, if we look closer to home, within the family of communities based in south Lincoln County, we might find the sibling we're missing.

Like a long-lost sister, Waldport has been there, just eight miles up the road, for a long time. We have inched toward stronger ties through emergency planning (if the Alsea Bay Bridge goes out, we may get to know the Waldportians the way you get to know your family when you're snow-bound in a cabin in the woods!) and through some shared personnel. For example, Larry Lewis is the city planner for both Waldport and Yachats. In the past, we have shared a public works director as well.

Yachats Lunch Bunch

by Will Williams,
Coordinator

This month the Lunch Bunch will be meeting at the Lions Club, they are graciously allowing us to use their club house for our Lunch! We will be Lunching as usual on the last Thursday of the month. Please mark your calendars for Thursday September 26th 2013, and come on down to the Yachats Commons. The event is open to everyone 55 years or older, and doors open at 11.30am with lunch being served at 12 noon, by Angell Job Corps. The menu this month is: Ham; Baked Macaroni and Cheese; Green Salad; Roll & Butter; with Cookies for dessert. There is a suggested donation of five

With the Rural Tourism Studio program sponsored by the Oregon Department of Tourism, our sisterly bonds have leaped forward. Without having to deal with an emergency, we have begun working together to create a sustainable economic base for both communities. Like any pair of siblings, our needs are different and our strengths are different, but both of us can only benefit from improved tourism as an economic strategy.

In the fall of 2010, Sue Woodruff and I put together a steering committee, with members drawn from both Yachats and Waldport, and we threw in Seal Rock for good measure. We put together an application for the state's Rural Tourism Studio, and we were selected, hands down the best application they'd seen, thanks to the good work of the people on the committee. Beginning in February, the hands-on training program began and continued for four and a half months. We learned how to plan for the future, work together on projects, find funding for those projects, and build the capacity to turn those projects into something real that would attract tourists to our area.

In the process, it has become clear that we are stronger together than apart. So, even though I'm the marketing director for GoYachats, I write up articles and stories about clamming and kayaking in Alsea Bay. Why?

Because once those people come here, attracted to one of the cleanest bays on the Oregon coast, and discover how many fun things there are to do here, they will need a place to lay their happy weary heads at the end of a day paddling out to look at seals or digging for clams. Where will they go? To Yachats, of course, because we have our marketing material right there with the information about the Bay, just as our motels have information about the fun things to do just eight miles up the road.

Our two main projects are designed to continue promoting the South Lincoln County area for a variety of activities to bring people here and encourage them to stay longer. One is a map of all the non-motorized trails from Ona Beach to Cape Perpetua. It includes hiking, biking, and paddling. We will add equestrian trails as soon as staging areas are developed, which will happen fairly soon as the new Beaver Creek state park development gets underway. The first printing of the map should be ready by late fall.

The second project is the First Annual Oregon Coast Gravel Grinder, which will take place on Saturday, October 5. Cyclists will ride from the old Waldport High School athletic field up into the Siuslaw National Forest. Two courses offer different challenges. One is 'just' 35 miles with a 5,000 feet elevation gain. The other is 73 miles and 10,000 feet elevation gain. This means, in case you're not a biker, that those who are will go up and down and up and down and up up up some more before heading back to the starting point. The route consists of both bumpy asphalt and gravel surfaces. There is no off-road riding and the whole course is monitored, with aid stations at intervals and emergency personnel, just in case.....(And yes, we know that this is the second Saturday of deer season, but in conversations with ODFW, we have been assured that this is not a heavily hunted area for deer and those hunters who do will be there at first light. We'll be early but not that early and there will be lots of signs so that drivers know there are cyclists on the roads.

The event is going to be awesome! If you know someone who might be interested, check out www.oregoncoastgravelpic.com for information on the race and how to register. If you'd like to volunteer to help, let me know (Andrea@GoYachats.org). Best of all, it will inform people who love to ride in the woods that there are miles of roads up there, a peaceful alternative to the 101 routine. (With a different type of bike, of course.)

It's been exciting getting to know our sister! I hope the citizens of both cities will pay visits more frequently throughout the year.

Although Yachats has some very nice fine dining, Waldport has a nice variety too, with a new Mexican restaurant opening at the south end of town in an old building with a bright new coat of paint. Waldportians often come to Yachats—there's a contingent that comes to the exercise class here all the time, and to Zumba and to the Yarn Over Yachats knitting club. So next time you have visitors looking for something fun to do, take them to visit our sister!

Yachats Youth and Family Activities Program

By Alice Beck,
Executive Director

Families Together Dinner Sept. 27th 6-8 pm

Come enjoy a family evening with free dinner, story time and crafts for the little ones. This month we will feature the early reader book "Dragon's Apple Picking Day". There will be apple treats for dessert and lots of fun for all. This program is offered in partnership with the Yachats Community Presbyterian Church who graciously offers their space and whose volunteers prepare and clean-up after our meal and we are very appreciative. We hope you will join us!

YYFAP begins a new Endowment Campaign

Yachats Youth & Family Activities Program recently received a generous pledge of $12,500 to begin a new endowment program. Once we reach the necessary $25,000 we can open our account. An endowment is a permanent fund that pays out distributions. The original sum is permanently protected from withdrawal. YYFAP intends to use the Oregon Community Foundation as the holder of our endowment. Distributions will then eventually help fund our cost to offer the programs to the community. If you are interested in donating to this endowment fund or have questions please contact Alice Beck at 541-547-4599, or send your contributions to YYFAP, PO Box 151, Yachats, OR 97498. Be sure to mark them for the endowment fund so we don't confuse them with other charitable donations.

Registration for Fall Preschool

YYFAP is currently taking registration for two fall preschool classes. We are offering a class for 3 and 4 year olds on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9-12 and a class for 4-5 year olds on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9-1 pm. In both classes we will be offering lunch this year. More information is available on our website or call 541-547-4599 to register. Classes are filling up quickly so don't delay. Classes begin the week of September 9th.

Rec-Plus Afterschool Adventures

We will again offer our afterschool program this year beginning on the first day of school for students, Tuesday, September 3rd. We will be open from 3:45 to 6:00 pm every day that school is in session providing fun activities, homework help, arts and crafts and other fun activities. The school bus drops off right by our door and we offer a sliding scale starting as low as $30 per month for those on free and reduced lunch. Call for details 541-547-4599 or find the registration form available on our website at www.yachatsyouth.org
